

The week just passed has certainly been one of the most important in the history of the Jamestown Exposition, including as it has Georgia and Virginia Day, with large crowds in attendance and many social entertainments given. The visit of President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt and party to the exposition on Monday was a delightful episode. Governor and Mrs. Swanson, Hon. Harry St. George Tucker and Mrs. Tucker, and Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Elyson and Mrs. Elyson were among the hosts and hostesses of the day. The illuminations of the fleet Monday night and Wednesday night were notably beautiful exposition features, witnessed by hundreds of Richmond people.

The receptions held at the Virginia Building and the halls given by the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, the West Pointers and the Virginia Polytechnic Institute cadets rendered the week especially delightful for young visiting girls.

Mrs. Edgar Lafferty chaperoned a party from Richmond that included Miss Charlotte Miller and Miss Eugenie Taylor.

Miss Page Aylett Royall and Miss Caroline Gordon Rennolds and Mrs. Columbia Hayes Walker were in Mrs. William R. Royall's party.

Miss Sallie Deane, Mrs. Scott Parrish, Mrs. Henry Bohmer of Philadelphia, and Miss Lucy Preston Beale assisted Mrs. Swanson in her duties as hostess of the Virginia Building.

Miss Linda Kolner was among the Richmond girls in attendance at the V. P. I. ball. Misses Lina and Hattie Shields were participants in the gaieties of the week.

The social climax was reached in the reception given Wednesday night at the State House by Governor and Mrs. Swanson, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Elyson, and Mrs. William Beale. The hall, drawing-rooms and dining-room of the Virginia Building were hospitably aglow with light and brightened with the beauty and fragrance of American Beauty roses and Southern smilax.

The presence among the guests of members of the Governor's staff, of the commanding officers of Richmond and Virginia military organizations, each of whom was attended by his staff, and of many prominent officials of the United States army and navy, all in full dress uniform, lent great distinction to the scene.

Mrs. Donald McLean, president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, drank a toast to Mrs. Swanson as being the most charming of Virginia hostesses. A splendid band added the delight of music to the inspiration of the hour, and it was universally acknowledged that Virginia Day celebration was one in which the honor of the Old Dominion had been most royally upheld.
